Ute Meier - a knack for the right match

The need for household support and the corresponding person specifications vary – sometimes considerably – and are as individual as the customers of Ute Meier, owner of Consulting Home & Garden.

With personal dedication and passion, longstanding mediation experience, a unique feeling for people, and an empathy that is second to none, Ute Meier brings the right people together.

Follow your vocation with passion

Ute Meier herself comes from the domestic staff sector and has worked in various positions as a housekeeper and most recently as a first housekeeper in upmarket private households in the banking metropolis and surrounding area of Frankfurt am Main. She knows the challenges from scratch and knows what matters, right down to the smallest detail.

Her focused service orientation and great empathy have brought her success and since 1997 her company has expanded into an international placement agency for highly qualified domestic staff throughout Germany and abroad.

Ute Meier works differently from the rest of her sector. A native of Hesse, she is one of a kind, working diligently 24/7 in the background. She is honest and direct, and thanks to her many years of experience and her extraordinary knowledge of human nature, she finds just the right staff.

Based on an employee profile, she offers you well-trained, committed, highly qualified and exactly the right candidates to meet your requirements. There is no computer selection or express placement, but a handpicked selection of suitable candidates. She fills a position quickly, with the best candidate and with long-term placement in mind.

Are you looking for highly qualified domestic staff?
We offer you competent advice and speedy recruitment at fair terms!

We have been successfully recruiting excellent domestic and service staff for more than 20 years. Our modern living environments require sophisticated personnel solutions to best support you in organising your work and private life.

In the many years of our successful international mediation activities, we have built up a valuable network of business partners and an extensive pool of applicants.

In a personal consultation with you, we create a detailed, precisely fitting person specification. In all points relevant to the position, we carefully examine the professional qualifications, the respective strengths and the references of our applicants. Long-term staffing that you can rely on is our ultimate goal.

Our fee is success-oriented and is always agreed with you personally on a case-by-case basis. You do not pay in advance, there are no hidden costs. A one-time subsequent placement within the 3-month trial period of our mediated applicant is included in our service.

With many years of experience and a lot of personal commitment, we provide first-class domestic staff.

We personally find and select competent and reliable staff for your private household or your company. Fast supply of the best staff and comprehensive support characterise our long-term relationships with our customers.

We are one of the few well-known domestic personnel agencies that follow the highest standards. Our credo is: "Class instead of mass". We are always available to you with confidence and full commitment during the entire recruitment process.

Our customers include high-net-worth households, entrepreneurs or very wealthy individuals. In addition, public figures and celebrities from the art, music, film, television, sports and fashion industries.

We provide you with candidates for a full-time job starting at 30 hours and applicants for temporary employment, so-called utility staff. Upon request, along with our legal team, we will assist you in drafting a contract and prepare the necessary documents for the conclusion of the contract with your staff.

With our professional home-staffing service,
you will find the right staff,
purposefully and quickly.
